

The Magic of Hamburgers

It was the day of the big football game and Runza® Rex was wearing the number 60 in honor of Runza's® 60th anniversary. He was running to the stadium because the pre-game Runza hamburger meal was about to be served when Runza® Rex saw a wizard. The wizard was tall and skinny, dressed in a purple cape and hat with a pattern of stars on them. Runza® Rex asked the wizard to teleport him to the stadium. The wizard said he would gladly transport him there.

When Runza® Rex appeared, the hamburgers disappeared in a wisp of sparkles. Sixty hamburgers, gone! Runza® Rex looked around and saw the same wizard again, but this time he had a cart of hamburgers and was standing on the big red N of the field. Runza® Rex chased the wizard from the 50 yard line to the 30 yard line. In a crackle of sparkles, the wizard immediately appeared in the stadium being chased by the angry team. The wizard then realized that his magic had oddly transported him and the team to the stadium. Now he was desperate for those hamburgers!

Then a football player hurled a football and knocked off the wizard's hat. The wizard watched as his hat soared through the air. The wizard leaped on his cart, and rode it down the stadium seats. He hurriedly chased after his hat. The team scrambled down after the wizard. The wizard turned around to see where the team was. He hadn't noticed that the cart had been stopped by Runza® Rex and now he was flying through the air.

In mid-air, the wizard thought to himself, "All of those great, juicy, Runza® hamburgers, all gone!" His magic would not work without the nutrients from the hamburgers. The wizard had found nothing better for his magic than Runza hamburgers which are rich in nutrients like zinc, B12, iron, riboflavin and thiamin.

The team thanked Runza® Rex and chowed down on hamburgers. The wizard crept in between the rows, and tried to grab a hamburger, but Runza® Rex caught him. Finally the wizard asked if he could have one hamburger.

Runza® Rex replied, "We can spare one, can't we team?"

The Husker center said that he would need the choline in the beef to think clearly during the game.

The linebacker thought out loud, “I will need the protein in the hamburger to keep my muscles strong and healthy.”

The team captain declared, “He asked us this time instead of just trying to steal a hamburger. I think he has learned his lesson.”

Everyone on the team agreed with the team captain, so they gave the wizard one of the juicy Runza® hamburgers. After taking a bite, the wizard left in a blast of sparkles without saying goodbye or thank you. Then the words THANK YOU appeared in the air over the stadium spelled out in red balloons.
